Resume of Indian-Spider Games

The Indians won their first game of the season when they defeated the heavier and hard fighting Norfolk Fire Department team 21-0, September 22nd. The Indians showed good form, and uncovered some good football for so early in the season. Coach Tasker gave all the prospective varsity men a chance in this game, and cut the first squad down to twenty-five men immediately after the game.

Navy At Annapolis

The Indians lost the first intercollegiate game of the season on Saturday against the Navy, but they were defeated by Navy 39-10. The Indians scored a touchdown and also a field goal against the Navy, but they were unable to break up the end runs and forward passes of the Navy team. J. Todd scored the touchdown for W. & M. after intercepting a forward pass and Matsu kicked both goals.

The feature of the game was an 85-yard run by Flippen and a 40-yard gain by Charles after receiving a pass from Matsu. Flippen, McKee, Cullen, Shafley and Ballenger did the best work for Navy while Matsu, J. Todd, Elliott and Charles starred for the Indians.

Syracuse at Syracuse

Before a crowd of about 15,000 the W. & M. team went down to defeat against Syracuse, one of the strongest teams in the country by the score of 61-3. The Indians put up a game fight but the broken field running and interference of the Syracuse backs was too much for them.

The features of the game were the scoring of touchdowns by both Bowman and Foley from kick-offs. Captain Todd played a good game and put the oval over the opponent's goal posts several times on the kick-off. Matsu did the Indian scoring with a drop-kick from the 38-yard line.

Guilford at Williamsburg

The W. & M. eleven ran roughshod over Guilford in the first collegiate game on its home grounds to the tune of 74-0, Saturday, October 13th. The entire team showed marked improvement over former games, and the crowd was aroused a number of times by the spectacular end runs and open field running of the Indian backs. The line made many holes and presented a stonewall defense.

Matsu, Charles, Barnes, Cain and Goetz did good work in the backfield, while J. Todd, House and Chalkley played well in the line. Captain McBane and Smith did the best work for Guilford.

College Colors Changed to Green, Silver and Gold

The College colors have been changed from orange and white to green, silver and gold, the colors appearing in the coat-of-arms which the Royal College of Heralds issued to William and Mary, May 14, 1694. This change occurred at a meeting of the academic and the athletic authorities for the purpose of restoring the original colors, and of making the College and the athletic colors identical.

All College decorations will undergo a change as soon as possible, to make effective the revival of the colors designated by the College of Heralds. Plans for the arrangement of the three colors, and the most artistic use of them are being discussed. It has been decided that duc caps will remain as they are for the present session.

Spiders Have Edge On Indians In Games Won

In 1898, the first football game between the Indians and Spiders was played. Since then, the two rivals have played twenty-eight games, William and Mary winning seven, tying two, and losing nineteen.

The coming game scheduled for Thanksgiving Day, will be the twenty-

Although greatly disappointed by their defeat at Roanoke, the Indians are more determined than ever to win the biggest game of the year next Thursday, from their deadliest rival, Richmond University. A victory for the Indians Thursday will bring to a grand climax the most successful season William and Mary has ever experienced, and will completely wipe out the sting from the Roanoke game. The men on the squad realize this, and have been working faithfully every minute on the new plays being taught them by Coach Tasker.

Richmond University has won the last three years from the Indians, but this year the odds slightly favor the Indians. A victory from Richmond University will give the Indians more claim to the championship of the Class B Colleges than Roanoke, as they have won from stronger opponents.

Coach Tasker and the men realize that a victory over Richmond will be hard earned and have been holding secret practice this week in order to be the better prepared for the game. The Indians played a defensive game at Roanoke so the Richmond scouts have had little opportunity to get a line on the team. No opponents gained through the Indian line this year and it is safe to say it will be invincible against the Spiders.

The offensive strength of the team is shown by the fact that it has scored

Richmond Jinx Laid At Rest At Bonfire

At the athletic rally held last Thursday night the students of the College were informed by the cheer leader that he had just received some very sad, but at the same time, good news, and that the Right Rev. Junie Hord would inform us of the nature of it as gently as possible.

The Right Rev. then stepped forth and informed us "that there has just departed from this earth a spirit who is better known by his nickname, 'Richmond Jinx.' This jinx is not like other spirits in that he does not have eternal life and we can now rest assured that he will never return to stroll around this ancient campus again."

BETWEEN THE GOAL POSTS

Last Saturday's game somewhat upset the dope in Class "B" Colleges. However, sport writers throughout the State contend that if William and Mary defeats the University of Richmond by a decisive score, they will be the logical contenders for the South Atlantic Championship for smaller colleges.

Richmond has a fast back in Mahaney; but fast backs of the smaller colleges have not succeeded in skirting our ends this year. Neither Caldwell of Roanoke, nor Boswell of Trinity, the speed kings of their teams could gain any ground on end runs.

In field generals we will stand Matsu up against the best of them; so from the kick-off until the final whistle we place the destiny of our team in his hands.

Our backfield has the advantage over that of the Spiders in regards to experience in previous Indian-Spider battles. Hastings, Irwin, and Cain have played one or more entire games against Richmond, while Mahaney is the only Richmond back who has faced an Indian line.

The two rival captains will play opposite each other. Captain Bethel of the University of Richmond, and Captain Todd of William and Mary, will each play center. Watch this miniature battle.

Thursday will see the full attacking power of both teams, as each coach will turn loose all the plays which have been saved for this particular fracas.

Colgate somewhat ruined our chances for national football fame when they scored 16 points on the great Syracuse eleven. Before this game William and Mary was the only team that had scored on Syracuse.

The Cadets will take the field a slight favorite over Tech, when they meet Turkey day in Roanoke.

Virginia should give North Carolina a better fight than was predicted at the beginning of the season. The Carolina elevens since 1916 have not tasted defeat at the hands of a Virginia eleven.

Washington and Lee bids fair to cop the Southern Conference title. Up to date the Generals have not suffered a defeat nor shared a tie with a Southern team.

Our last line. "Follow the Ball, Indians."

THE SQUAD

TODD—Center

John Todd, Center, is perhaps the most versatile line man on the varsity, captain of the eleven, and is completing his third year of football. He was favorably mentioned last year as an All-Southern man.

HOUSE—Right Guard

"Kerno" House, Right Guard, is considered one of the best linesmen in the State, and his methods of attack are many and varied.

Indians Suffer Defeat At Hands Of Roanoke

Football "dope" was somewhat upset last Saturday afternoon when William and Mary lost to Roanoke College by the score of 7 to 9. The Indian's touchdown came early in the first quarter as a result of a pass from the Maroon center which went over the goal line and was recovered by House. Hastings scored the extra point.

After William and Mary had drawn "first blood" the Maroon line stiffened and presented a defense which was impregnable; for the balance of the game the Indians were on the defensive. Late in the second quarter Hurt, Roanoke's versatile fullback, shot a 30-yard pass to Miller, a substitute, who fell over the goal line for their first and only touchdown. Hurt failed to kick goal for the extra tally. In the fourth period Hurt scored the winning points by a field goal from the 35-yard line. His two other attempts to score via the field goal route fell short.

The William and Mary backs could not gain through Roanoke's massive line and had to resort to the kicking game to hold back their opponent's rushes. Both teams deserve credit for their hard fighting and every yard gained was bitterly contested.

Hurt was the shining light for Roanoke with his passing and line plunging. Captain Caldwell, Roanoke's illusive quarterback, was playing his last game at Roanoke College and deserves credit for his field generalship.

The Todd boys played well in the William and Mary line and it was largely due to their hard tackling that Roanoke's end runs failed.

A large crowd witnessed this grid classic at the fair grounds in Roanoke Saturday afternoon.

The line-up was as follows:

Roanoke (9)	Pos.	W.&M. (7)
Ould	L. E.	Jordan
Potter	L. T.	Elliott
Geisen	L. G.	Parsons
Logan	C.	J. Todd

Scoring: Touchdowns—House 1, Miller 1 (sub. for Oakey). Field goals—Hurt 1. Try for points—Hastings 1.

Substitutions: Roanoke College—Miller for Oakey, Woods for Ould; William and Mary—Matsu for Charles, Charles for Hastings.

Officials: Williams (Virginia), referee; Breet (Springfield), umpire; Apple (Michigan), head linesman.

Time of quarters—15 minutes.

ABOUT CHANGE IN COLORS

The action of the administration in changing the College and athletic colors from orange and white and orange and black respectively, to green, silver, and gold is a step decidedly in keeping with the spirit of the Institution.

William and Mary is, and always will be, a school in which tradition is a priceless possession. When the College was granted a coat-of-arms by the Royal College of Herald, May 14, 1694, green, silver, and gold were the colors granted to it. It is then particularly fitting that these colors should be preserved as a symbol of one of the many priorities of William and Mary.

The change will also standardize the College and athletic colors, thus doing away with the present two sets. This should prove a much more satisfactory arrangement than that now used of having one set of colors for the College and another for athletics. In addition, the combination adopted should present a vastly better appearance than that now in use.

INDIAN SPIRIT

Over-confidence is the greatest enemy that any football team can have. This has been shown in numberless instances on the gridiron. Saturday's defeat at the hands of Roanoke may or may not have been the result of over-confidence—but certainly the overshadowing importance of the Richmond game on Thanksgiving had its share in the upset of the dope.

The same fate has fallen to the lot of countless football teams. Notable among such instances this year has been the defeats handed to Virginia, V. P. I., Maryland and Notre Dame by V. M. I., Washington and Lee, V. P. I., and Nebraska respectively.

The student body went to the Palace Theatre last Saturday prepared to see an Indian victory. Although disappointments came thick and fast, faith in the team never wavered. And that same faith in the team will be in the heart of every student and alumnus who sees the team trot on the field on Thanksgiving day—faith that the team will fight to the last ditch and never give up until the referee's whistle announces the end of the game.

We have a fighting team—a team that fights until it drops in its tracks. To beat the Spiders is our goal and it is within our reach. Still, if we are to be defeated, let us do it like true Indians, fighting to the last, and the reason will never be because of the Richmond Jinx.

On To Richmond

Not the team, not the Coach, but William and Mary, is faced once more with the task of humbling our old time rivals, Richmond University. The time seems ripe for a much-delayed victory over the Spiders, and William and Mary faces the Thanksgiving Day battle with brighter prospects than she has had within the past two years.

But no matter how bright the prospects, William and Mary cannot win without the aid of every man and woman of yellable age in College. Arrangements have been completed whereby a special train will convey the Indian rooters to Richmond on Thanksgiving, and rates have been secured which are within the reach of all.

The team will fight the best they know how on Turkey Day, but that last half-ounce of fight, which is the difference between victory and defeat, comes only with the realization that the student body is behind them to a man.

Every student who can possibly do so should be in Richmond Thursday. The team needs your support—must have it. If you do your part, the team will do theirs, so let's all get together and break up the Spider's web.

That period from 1908 to 1911, inclusive, might be termed the "Golden Era" in our football history; for in those four years the Indians soundly thrashed the Richmond team four times and held them scoreless in two games. As the record now stands we have a man-sized job ahead of us if we hope to even up the total number of victories. Thursday's game will start things "humming" because we are anxious to revenge last year's defeat.

DOBSON
Coach Richmond University

A number of our distinguished alumni will witness the game, among them being late Professor O. L. Shewmake, quarterback and captain in 1901, and the first William and Mary player to score a touchdown against Richmond.

The students, the team, and everyone connected with the institution are anxiously awaiting the Thanksgiving contest and a chance to give Richmond a good sound "drubbing." Physically, our team is in perfect condition. Morally nothing is lacking and our team has that fight and grit that characterize winners. The fighting spirit is running rampant from one end of the campus to the other and practically the whole student body will be in the stands to cheer the Orange and Black to victory. Comparative scores show that the Indians are superior and after the contest there will be no doubt in the minds of our supporters.

The winning of the Thanksgiving contest will have a claim to the championship of the minor colleges of Virginia and the Carolinas.

against every team played against this season, among them Syracuse and Navy, both which have one of the strongest teams in the country.

Nothing has been heard from the Spiders' headquarters this week but it is known that they have been holding in reserve all season several men who are expected to be of great help to them in the Thanksgiving Day game.

Coach Tasker's charges will go into the game prepared for the hardest fight of the season.

powerful defense man, and has developed into one of the Indians' most aggressive linesmen.

YOUNG—Right Tackle

"Blunder" Young, Right Tackle, is playing his third and last year on the Indian gridiron. He will be seen in action for the last time in the Richmond game Thursday.

"Tommy" Jordan, Left End, is playing his last year on the varsity. For four years he has upheld the Indian colors on college gridirons, and he has established an enviable and worthy record.

TODD—Right End

Lee Todd, Right End, can safely be said to be the best end William and Mary has had in recent years. He is aggressive in his attack and is a swift, hard tackler.

MATSU—Quarterback

"Art" Matsu, Quarterback, received his former training at East High, Cleveland, Ohio. He has proved himself to be a stellar field general, and has made a wonderful record in his one year on the varsity.

IRWIN—Halfback

"Wince" Irwin, halfback, carries the ball with a vicious telling effect, and is a brilliant offensive man. It was his death-dealing blows that completely disorganized the Hampden-Sidney Tigers, and that ripped jagged holes in the Delaware defense.

HASTINGS—Halfback

W. H. Hastings, Halfback, as Jordan and Young, is making his last appearance in an Indian uniform next Thursday in Richmond, after upholding the standards of William and Mary for four successful years.

CAIN—Fullback

Howard Cain, Fullback, is the brightest battering ram and one of the most powerful men on the eleven.

CHARLES—Quarterback

"Dicky" Charles, Quarterback, is one of the most versatile backfield men on the varsity. He is good for any position.

BARNES—Fullback

Barnes, Fullback, is one of the most promising freshmen in the backfield, owing to his speed and drive.

GILMORE—Halfback

Gilmore, Halfback, hails from Vermont and is heralded as a speed wizard, which fact he is demonstrating with ease on the gridiron.

CHALKLEY—End

"Jack" Chalkley, End, and letter man, showed up well in the Syracuse and Navy games early in the year, but due to injuries received in the Guilford game, has been kept on the sidelines for the greater part of the season.

KEISTER—Guard

Paul Keister, Guard, is one of the cleverest men on the varsity. He plays a powerful game as an aggressive and steady guard.

ALKIRE—Center

Herbert Alkire, Center, received his early training at William and Mary under Coach Driver, and his good work on the scrubs has won him a place on the varsity.

FLETCHER—Guard

HINES—Tackle

H. L. Hines, Left Tackle, comes to us from Suffolk High, where he served his time as a high school star.

SHAMBOUGH—Guard

Shambough, Right Guard, is a freshman, playing his first year on the varsity.

WILLIAMS—End

"Ostrich" Williams, Left End, a letter man of last year, is a product of West Point High.

COFER—Halfback

"Clem" Cofer, Halfback, is playing his second year on the varsity, but due to injuries he has been kept out of recent games.

GORNTTO—Guard

Clifton Gorntto, Right Guard, is another freshman, who has stepped into the limelight by winning a varsity berth in his first year.

WHITE RELEASED ON THOUSAND DOLLAR BAIL

alleged that the car was running without lights at the time of the accident, and that White was under the influence of liquor.

A large crowd of students were attracted to a point on the Richmond road where there was a small fire, and while they were walking along the edge of the road, it is alleged that the negro drove his car into the midst of them. Miss Ethel Baldwin, of Norfolk, was badly injured, sustaining a broken collar bone and jaw bone. F. H. Christopher, of Remo, Va., was thrown into the ditch at the side of the road by the impact, and was severely bruised, while Miss Norma Eades, of Portsmouth, was thrown across the hood and fender of the car, and carried a block below the College Shop before the driver could be forced to stop his machine.

White was taken to the city jail and later rushed to Newport News, when the authorities began to fear for his safety.

All three of the injured students were given first aid by Dr. King in the infirmary, but when the seriousness of Miss Baldwin's injury became apparent, she was sent to the Elizabeth Buxton Hospital in Newport News. It is reported that Miss Baldwin's father will prosecute the case against White to the limit and his lawyers are already preparing their material.

Beside the main charge of injuring the students, it is said that White will have to answer for several others, among which are violation of the traffic ordinances, speeding and driving while under the influence of liquor.

According to latest reports from the Buxton Hospital Miss Baldwin is resting very well and it is expected that she will be able to appear at the trial. Mr. Christopher's injuries, though very painful, are not dangerous, while Miss Eades was only slightly bruised.

Library Receives Map of James City

A map of James City County is one of the most valuable recent additions to the Library. This map, drawn by Elijah T. Ketchum, a former student of William and Mary, and County Surveyor for James City County, is drawn to a scale of two inches to the mile and is complete in every detail.

The work of making this map was done under the supervision of Dr. R. C. Crawford, formerly of the Department of Fine and Industrial Arts, and was done for the board of supervisors of James City County. It shows in minute detail all roads, creeks, swamps, ponds, mill-sites, houses, and other improvements and landmarks.

This map, which will be especially useful to students who plan to make history excursions in the county, hangs beside the stairway leading to the vault, and may be used by any one at any time during library hours.

The burial service was held the following morning amid shouted expressions of delight from the audience. The body laid in state in the Main Building for two days, the students tripping by and casting an evil eye at the black casket.

It had been the wish of the "jinx" that he be cremated so the old men of the College carried out his last desire and cast his body high upon the flames of a unique bonfire in which the Ducs were not allowed to participate.

The inscription on the casket read as follows:

"In this casket remains all that is mortal of the 'Richmond Jinx' who departed this life after the rally on November 22, 1923, after a grand attack of 'Taskeritis' the ghost was given up. Pax Vobiscum. R. I. T. 'May there be no resurrection.'" feated the Trinity "Blue Devils" at Rocky Mount, N. C., Saturday, October 20th, by the score of 21-0. The victory marked the third for the Indians over Trinity in as many years. The Indians showed great strength in their victory.

The superiority of the victors is indicated by their fourteen first downs against Trinity's eight. The game was featured by the dazzling aerial attack of the Indians in which Matsu and Jordan were the principals. Hastings, Irwin, Matsu, Elliott, Marks and Captain Todd starred for the Indians, and Simpson, Carter, Shuff and Bullock starred for Trinity.

Randolph Macon at Home

Although putting up a game fight, the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets were forced to bow in defeat before the Indian eleven Saturday, October 27th, by the score of 27-0. Coach Tasker started the second varsity against them and they played over half the game, although the first team did most of the scoring when they were substituted in the second and fourth periods. However, the reserves deserve a lot of credit for their good work.

The lines of both teams played well and Charles and Barnes made good gains for the reserves. Hastings and Cain did good work for the first team. Cain was the only man to play the entire game for W. & M. Keister, Matsu, Jordan and J. Todd played well for the Indians. Rash, Crouse, Bell, and Vrmv played best for Randolph-Macon. The features of the game were several long passes from Matsu to Jordan, one of which resulted in a touchdown.

Hampden-Sidney at Norfolk

The Indians won their second victory in as many years Saturday, November 3, at the Norfolk Ball Park over their old rival, Hampden-Sidney, outplaying them every minute; and they clearly deserved their 20-0 victory. The entire W. & M. team played a great game and showed that they had a splendid gridiron machine by their exhibition.

Irwin, Cain, Hastings and Charles carried the ball down the field for substantial gains each time they were called upon. Although Cain had his nose broken soon after the game started, he continued in the game and scored two touchdowns. Jordan and House played well for W. & M. in the line. Ben Smith was the big star for Hampden-Sidney, although Tyson, Fuqua and Sagler also played well.

Delaware at Home

In one of the best games seen here this year, and the last one on their home schedule, the Indians defeated the Delaware University eleven 14-0. The victory was particularly sweet to the Indians as they gained revenge for the licking they received from Delaware several years ago. The victory also marked the fifth straight for Coach Tasker's charges.

The game was fiercely fought every minute and the Indians did not score until the third quarter when "Blunder" Young recovered two fumbles near the Delaware goal line and the Indian backs took the ball over each time for a touchdown. The Delaware team only made three first downs, while the Indians made eight. Matsus's punting and passing was the feature of the game.

Young, J. Todd, Parson, Elliott, Hastings and Charles also played well for W. & M. Cain was unable to play on account of injuries. Garvine, Aiken, Elliott and Donaldson played the best for Delaware.

Roanoke at Roanoke

The Indians lost a tough and hard-fought game to Roanoke at Roanoke, Saturday, November 17, by the close score of 9-7. Coach Tasker had his men play a defensive game throughout the game and they put up a game fight. Roanoke had the advantage, as it was their last game and the Indians still had their most important game to play.

Roanoke clearly deserved the victory, however, as they played a fine game of football and presented driving offensive with Hurt, Cauldwell and Oakey being the mainstays of the backfield. Miller, a substitute, also played well for Roanoke.

William and Mary led up to the last few minutes of the game 7-6, when Hurt kicked a field goal and snatched victory from almost certain defeat. House scored the touchdown for the Indians when he fell on the ball behind Roanoke's goal after a bad pass made by their center. Captain Todd and L. Todd were in nearly every play, while Cain and House also did good work for the Indians.
